

Reporting Options and Resources for Individuals Who Have Experienced Discrimination, Discriminatory Harassment, Sexual Harassment, Dating and Sexual Violence, Domestic Violence, and/or Stalking

As a member of the SUNY Korea community, if you believe that you have been the victim of discrimination, including sexual assault or some other form of sexual violence, which are regarded as discrimination on the basis of sex, there are multiple options that you may wish to pursue. You are strongly encouraged to bring your complaint to a University official. You may bring your complaint to one or more of the offices listed below.

1. You may file a discrimination complaint with the Office of Institutional Diversity and Equity. SUNY Korea Academic Building A711, titleIX@sunykorea.ac.kr

You may wish to file a discrimination grievance with the Title IX Coordinator. The Title IX Coordinator will undertake an investigation that may involve taking statements from you, the accused, and pertinent witnesses.

If the accused is a current student of SUNY Korea, and you would like to see the matter handled internally through the University conduct system, you may choose to report the incident directly to the Chair of Committee on Institutional Diversity and Equity. If the accused is found accountable, the University will take action in accordance with its Student Code of Conduct policies and procedures.

2. You may report the incident to Human Resources & Operations Team. 032-626-1140

If the accused is a current employee of SUNY Korea, you may choose to report the incident directly to Human Resources Team. If the accused is found accountable, the University will take the appropriate action in accordance with applicable HR policy.

3. You may document that the incident has occurred, but that you have decided to not pursue further actions.

You may report the incident to one or more of the above offices, but decide not to proceed further. Nevertheless, the University may need to conduct an investigation, especially if community safety is a concern. University personnel will take responsible steps to investigate the incident and respect your request for privacy, as far as the law permits. The University's ability to respond to the incident you experienced will be limited if you decide not to take part in the investigation.

4. You may report the incident and pursue criminal charges through local police agency. Songdo Yeonsu Police Station. 032-822-1112 or 112

Upon reviewing the facts of your case, a law enforcement agency may arrest the accused.
